

Second APSCUF-PSEA CONFERENCE ON LABOR IN HIGHER EDUCATION
October 15-17, 2010
Holiday Inn East
Harrisburg, PA

Plenary speakers will include Cary Nelson, former AAUP President and cultural critic, whose newest book No University is an Island: Saving Academic Freedom was published in December.

Call for Papers, Colloquy, and Workshops

Following the success of the 2009 conference, organizers seek papers, colloquy, and workshops examining the issues currently confronting teachers, scholars, researchers, coaches, professional staff and other interested parties who perform academic labor in higher education. The conference provides a forum to explore, discuss, and debate academic labor issues across disciplinary boundaries. In particular the conference will focus on the current direction of academic labor and the development of practical ways to address the issues raised. Reports will be heard from the active Labor in Higher Education Task Forces.

Issues of interest may broadly include but are not limited to:

- Academic freedom
- Accountability
- Assessment
- Class size
- Coaches Issues
- Collective Bargaining
- Contingent Faculty
- Declining Union Density and Poverty
- Distance Education
- Diversity
- Evaluation
- Faculty Development
- Funding Practices
- Governance
- Graduate Students
- Grievance
- Healthcare
- Hiring Practices
- Information Security
- Intellectual Property
- Job Actions
- Legal Issues
- Political Action
- Productivity
- Promotion
- Publication
- Remuneration
- Sabbatical
- Social Class Issues
- Strike Experience

- Tenure
- Unionism
- Unionism and Social Transformation
- Workload

Only electronic submissions in Word 2007 in the following format will be accepted:

Title
Author
Affiliation
Body of Abstract (not to exceed 500 words)

Submissions will be accepted until 11:00 p.m. on Friday April 9, 2010 to:

Amy R. Walters
Vice President
APSCUF
e-mail: awalters@apscuf.org

If an abstract is accepted, a full draft paper or materials for workshop must be submitted by 11:00 p.m. Friday, August 6, 2010 to be for consideration for publication in conference proceedings.

All submissions will be acknowledged with a receipt. If your electronic proposal has not been acknowledge within one week, please inquire. Paper proposals will not be accepted.

This project is sponsored by APSCUF, Association of Pennsylvania State College and University Faculties and PSEA, Pennsylvania State Education Association.

Website: <http://www.apscuf.org>